LANDAC CONFERENCE 2017
LEAVE NO ONE BEHIND:
SETTING THE LAND AGENDA TO 2030
WHERE DO WE STAND NOW…

• In 2015, the land community rallied together and was successful in having land rights recognised in the SDGs, one of the most prominent developments processes of our time.

• Despite this advancement, land-related indicators were not placed front and center, hindering their ability to qualify for implementation!

• Now, only two years later, it is once again our collective responsibility to ensure that land issues remain relevant and visible on a global level.
What has emerged out of Agenda 2030 has been the ‘continuum of land rights’; the need for increased tracking of land tenure rights themselves, as well as perceptions of those rights.

On June 19th, 2017, the Land Portal hosted a webinar on ‘Tenure Security and SDG Land Indicator 1.4.2- How do we measure perceptions on land tenure security?’

200 discussants registered for the event, allowing for idea exchange on a range of topics, from reporting on perception data to collection and dissemination.
WHAT IS BEING DONE...

• In order to keep the momentum going and gather ideas, moderated discussions have therefore continued on past last week’s original webinar.

• Part of the Land Portal’s mission is to offer a virtual space where often sidelined voices, such as those of local and indigenous people, are brought to the forefront.

• It is with this in mind that a number of participants, from students to experts alike, are discussing as we speak.

The Land Portal has been founded on the notion that everyone from decision makers, to grassroots groups, should have access to reliable information and data, for more informed decision making!

A page is therefore now under construction on the Land Portal, dedicated specifically to the SDG land indicators. It contains comprehensive information on progress being made.

The page will be made available later in the summer and we will be sure to publicize it, so that it is widely available.

WHAT IS BEING DONE...

• Launched in February 2017 as part of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network, SDSN Thematic Network on Good Governance of Extractive and Land Resources is an initiative of the UN Secretary General.

• Members can engage virtually via a dedicated Slack platform to share relevant news, events, reports, and resources on topics within the thematic area.

• Discussions regarding Indicator 1.4.2 that took place on the Land Portal can be continued via a dedicated channel on the Network’s Slack platform.

• For more information and to be connected to the discussion, please contact Lisa Sachs (lsachs1@law.columbia.edu) and Jesse Coleman (jcoleman@law.columbia.edu)

• Please find attached wireframes for the PRIndex pages:

  • Landing page — a ‘dataset’ meets ‘project’ page
  • Indicator page — similar to existing indicator pages, but if a new indicator is selected in the drop-down menu I suggest loading a new page with that indicator so the surrounding content is also updated.

• There could optionally be Country pages for the PRIndex content that group together findings by country.

• This could be all indicators running down the page as horizontal bar charts: Country vs Survey average.

• Probably depends if this content will be delivered and/or the indicators can be easily manipulated as needed.
